A stream falls slowly silent, swallowed by the mountain.
Shrill voices come from the inside.

⚠ Ogres go out hunting for travellers once a day

⚠ Junior King would take a nap here if he overdrank wine.

🗝 Storage room

A dark room, a faint light from nearby areas illuminates the floor: a mess of boxes, crates, trunks filled with tools, servants' clothes, herbs and dried food.

A source of light could show the shelves: utensils, plates, cups and recipients; gourds, jugs and vases of all dimensions.

Encounters: Devil servants

⚠ One of the treasures looks like an ordinary gourd bottle.

👁 Women quarter

The door is decorated with ivory bas-reliefs: a rich sedan chair followed by a troop of marching she-devils. A protruding hand with a golden decoration.

Inside: an old woman is sitting on a chair, a white silk scarf wrapped around her head and jewels studded her golden earrings.
A she-devil servant is combing her hair.

A steady fire fuels a boiling pot, little devils bustle about amidst chopped ingredients and sauces, knives wielded by steady hands. The smoke rises toward an opening in the ceiling that goes up inside the mountain.

Soaked in the pool at the back, hidden from the entrance, there's a man tied up, he is trembling and murmuring a prayer.

Encounters: Devil servants

The man is a MONK, captured to be eaten by the Senior King and prolong his life

Chieftain quarter

The Senior King's private area is entered through a paper sliding door.

Inside: a golden screen decorated with a fan wrapped in flames hides the bed; on the other side of the room there's a lectern with several scattered sheets.

The 5 Treasures

Read this if you want to know the treasure's way of working:

Gold and red gourd: if opened it will swallow the sky, changing day to night. Close it to have the daylight back.

Dazzling Golden Cord: with a spell it moves to tie a person. Another spell unties. It can't be cut with normal weapons.

Vase of muttonfat jade: remove the label and call out a person's name, if they respond they'll be trapped inside.

Plantain Fan: it creates magic-fire's waves inextinguishable using conventional methods.

Seven-star sword: magical and indestructible weapon. It can block hits from stronger enemies without any effort from the holder.
